

OESG

Monday, 25th April 2016

The future business opportunities of North Yorkshire onshore oil and gas

Event Programme

oesg.org.uk

Monday, 25th April 2016

The future business opportunities of North Yorkshire onshore oil and gas

- 12:00      Doors open for registration
- 13:00      Event welcome, Simon Bull, Scarborough Business Ambassadors
- 13:05      Opening remarks, Lee Petts, OESG
- 13:15      The size of the prize, Ken Cronin, UKOOG
- 13:30      The 14th Licensing Round and what it means, Andy Mortimer, Third Energy
- 13:45      Panel Q&A
- 14:00      Establishing a local supply chain, Paul Match, PR Marriott Drilling
- 14:15      The local supply chain story so far, Lorraine Allanson, Rains Farm Holidays
- 14:30      A catalyst for local skills, Tim Englefield, Scarborough UTC
- 14:45      Panel Q&A
- 15:00      Refreshment break and networking
- 15:20      INEOS in North Yorkshire, Tom Pickering, director
- 15:40      Cuadrilla Resources in North Yorkshire, Eric Vaughan, well services director
- 16:00      IGas Energy in North Yorkshire, John Blaymires, chief operating officer
- 16:20      Egdon Resources in North Yorkshire, Mark Abbott, managing director
- 16:40      Third Energy in North Yorkshire, John Dewar, operations director
- 17:00      Panel Q&A
- 17:30      Event close

Join us after the event closes at our early evening drinks reception from 18:00 to learn more about the geology of North Yorkshire with a fascinating talk from Professor Peter Styles, of Keele University, and enjoy even more networking opportunities in a relaxed and informal environment.

All timings are approximate. OESG reserves the right to amend or update this programme without notice, including by substituting speakers and their topics.

North Yorkshire has a rich history of onshore oil and gas extraction dating back to the 1930s, but more recent and potentially significant discoveries of shale gas deposits mean the industry now has a unique and exciting chance to grow and contribute even more to the economic performance of the region.